Hon. Irshad Hussain, J.

The petitioner has applied for admission in the graduate course of the respondent university. The father of the petitioner is employee of the university as well he belongs to other backward class(O.B.C.)category. The petitioner could not get admission.

The grievance canvassed by Mr. M. S. Pal, learned counsel for the petitioner is that separate reservation is provided for category of the wards of the backward class employee and against that quota the petitioner's claim was not considered for admission.

Heard Mr. R. Dobhal, learned counsel for the respondents. Perused the counter affidavit.

No doubt, it is revealed that broad classification of the wards of the employee and for the O.B.C. is made. However, there is no separate or special category as the ward of backward class employee of the University. We find some force in the submission.

Mr. Dobhal, learned counsel for the University further made a statement on behalf of the University that the claim of the petitioner was considered against both the categories, namely, wards of the employee and backward class and the candidates who have got higher ranking than that of the petitioner have been admitted to the course. In view of this, we do not find any substance in the grievance.

The petition is dismissed accordingly.
